THE DIE IS CAST; PINCHOT PLAN OF SETTLEMENT READY

Operators and Miners to Learn Fully of the Governor's Plan at a Meeting Tonight at 6.

ACCORD UNLIKELY

THE DIE IS insyfifff

Harrisburg, Pa., Aug. 29.—The plan of peace that will make or break the imminent anthracite coal strike was drawn up today by Governor Pinchot.

Before midnight it will be delivered to the deadlocked miners and operators, who will accept it and maintain the mines, or reject and precipitate a strike next Friday mid night.

The plan embodies a demand for concession from both parties, it is learned. While there is no authorative intimation of its contents, the plan is believed as follows:

First: A half way check-off be established, one that will protect the operators against recognition of the union by its phraseology and enable the union to collect the dues of the miners at the mines on pay day.

Second: Give the miners a wage increase, perhaps as high as ten per cent.

Third: Establish an eight hour day

If these three plans are unacceptable by either of the two parties, the Governor has been advised to ask them to declare a thirty day truce and maintain operation while new efforts are made to thresh out the difficulty.

It is learned also that Pinchot has been informed how he can seize and operate the mines. The six advisors of the Governor have presented to him a scheme which will enable him to carry out the threat "that the mines can be and must be maintained." These advisors pointed out that if the miners accept, but the operators refuse this proffer of peace, the Governor may seize and operate and appeal to the miners to work with him to save the public.

Lewis Arrives

Harrisburg, Pa., Aug. 29.—John L. Lewis, President of the United Mine Workers arrived here this morning and immediately went into conference with Philip Murray temporary head of the mine delegates.

Lewis came from Philadelphia, where he had established "strike headquarters."

Harrisburg, Aug. 29.—The definite proposal of Governor Pinchot for settlement of the nearing anthracite coal strike will be submitted to the miners and operators at 6:00 p. m. tonight in a joint conference.

This announcement was made from the executive chamber today when word came out that the suggestions would be a definite proposal, which should be accepted or rejected by the opposing parties. The meeting will be open to the public just as the first conferences was

Attorney J. J. Curran of Wilkes-Barre conferred with Governor Pinchot today and brought the attitude of John L. Lewis before the executive. Curran has been conferring with Lewis in Atlantic City and Philadelphia.

CLEARFIELD PUBLIC SCHOOLS WILL OPEN ON SEPTEMBER 10TH.

The Clearfield Public Schools will open on Monday, Septembe 10, 1923, the opening date being delayed a week by reason of the fact that the Clearfield County Teachers' Institute will be held in the High School building the week of September the 3rd. this year.

Pupils may get their blue slips at the High School Office any day now between the hours of 9 A. M. and 1 P. M.

All children must have been successfully vaccinated before being admitted. This is a hard and fast provision of the State law and the School Board has no option in the matter. So be sure your child has been successfully vaccinated before sending him to school.

FINAL PLAYGROUND GAMES THURSDAY

Beginning at 2:00 p. m. at Witmer Park. Volley ball, boys and girls simultaneously, then horseshoes and then base ball finishing with the presentation of trophies for which the teams have been fighting for 10 weeks. The 1923 playground season will then be over.

KLAN WILL BE PERMITTED TO PARADE IN SCOTTDALE

Knights of the Ku Klux Klan will not be refused a permit to parade in Scottdale next Saturday, despite the occurrences in Carnegia last Saturday night when a general riot followed an attempt to parade thru that town.

Burgess W. L. Shaffer of Scottdale announced yesterday that since he became Burgess he had not refused any organization a permit to parade in the borough and he could see no reason why he should discriminate against the Klan. If the members of the organization hold their meeting as scheduled, he said they will be permitted to march in the borough.

LIGHTING MATCHES IN THEATRE BAD BUSINESS

Youngsters are warned that it is against the law and a dangerous procedure to light matches in any theatre during a momentary shut-off of the lightning system.

This occurred several times in the Punxsy theatres Monday night. As soon as the lights went out thoughtless boys began lighting matches and yelling. The lighting of matches and dropping of them might start a fire that would cause the deaths of dozens of people. The yelling might start a stampede that would end in the death of many. When the lights go out show good common sense and sit tight. The management will arrange new ones in a short time.

SEC. DAVIS BRANDS ATTACK ON COURT ASSAULT ON U. S.

Minneapolis, Minn., Aug. 29.—Attempts to limit the power of the United States Supreme Court in testing the constitutionality of legislation is "an attack on our theory of government," John W. Davis, New York, declared in an address opening the convention of the American Bar Association here today.

Davis urged the continuation of the five to four decision and appealed for American participation in a World Court.

INHERITS $21,000; TRYING TO SPEND IT IN RECORD TIME

Philadelphia, Aug., 29 — (United Press)—Edward Parker, a sixty-one year old negro bootblack is living a life of luxury and ease.

Parker sports six new suits of clothes, two high silk hats, seven pairs of patent leather shoes with white buttons, four cream vests, red neckties and purple sox.

The grocery wagon backs up to Parker's door every morning. The boy takes out a big basket of vegetables, and than half a dozen dressed chickens.

Parker has $21,000 to spend. He recently inherited this small fortune from a brother who died at Charleston, S .C. The minute he heard of his wind-fall he closed up his place of business and started to "rest".

"My motto is: Money you aint never stuck by me and you aint going to stick by me now," Parker tells his friends. "I gives you six months to leave me."

"About ten years ago my father died and left me $12,000. I got rid of that in a year. Now I am older and more experienced and should be able to go through twice that much in half the time."

To friends Parker advises for luck there is nothing like carrying a bone from the left front leg of a black cat, saying that the rabbit foot charm "aint to be mentioned in the same day."

Mrs Clark Witherite and children have returned from a visit with relatives in Kerrmoor.

LOYSVILLE BAND BOY LOSES LIFE AS TRUCK OVERTURNS AT TURTLE CREEK

The large truck which carries the Loysville Orphans' Home Band, was wrecked near East Liberty, Pa., on Wednessay evening, August 22nd, when one of the occupants was killed and seventeen others more or less injured. The truck was descending Turtle Creek hill at the foot of which is a railroad bridge. The large machine struck the bridge and overturned upon the railroad tracks.

The Loysville Orphans' Home Band has been visiting Clearfield annually for several years and played here at the Court House. The band was scheduled to play at the Huntingdon county fair this week.

These boys have made many warm friends during their visits to Clearfield and the community in general extends sincere sympathy on this sad occasion.

WELLS AND SPRINGS SHOULD BE GIVEN GREAT ATTENTION

Harrsburg, Pa., Aug. 28.—(United Press)—Careful supervision of wells and springs, the natural water supply for thousands of people in the rural communities ,was urged today by Dr. Charles H. Miner, Secretary of Health, in his weekly health talk. His article follows:

By DR. CHARLES H. MINER
State Secretary of Health

Wells and springs are the natural water supplies for thousands of people. Too often they are unsafely located or inadequately protected against contamination.

The shallow dug well is more liable to contaminate than the deeper, driven or drilled type. In general, a well should be placed as distant as possible and above sources of pollution such as out houses, cesspools, sewers and barn yards.

To keep the surface drainage out, the cover should be tight, preferably concrete, as plank covering is seldom water tight. It should be higher in the center and sloping to the sides. A trough for waste water should be provided. The walls or casings should extend above the ground surface and a good pump, bolted tightly to the well cover or casing should be used, never a pail and rope.

A spring used as a source of water supply should be surrounded with water tight masonry walls, provided with a roof, equipped with a trap door which should be kept closed. Water should never be taken from a spring by dipping with any utensil, but from an overflow pipe inserted in the wall for the purpose or by means of a pump. A drainage ditch should be dug on the upper side of the spring to intercept and divert surface water.

PRINCESS ANASTASIA NEAR DEATH

London, Aug. 29.—Princess Anastasia of Greece, formerly Mrs. Wm. B. Leeds of the United States, is at the point of death here. Specialists have been summoned. The princess has undergone four operations since she was stricken ill early in the summer with intestinal trouble. Hope for her recovery now has been abandoned.

The Princess' fortune is estimated at $25 000,000. In the event of her death the money will be placed in a trust fund for her son, it is understood.

PUNXSUTAWNEY FAIR STARTS

Punxsutawney, Pa., Aug. 28.—With fair weather promised for what is expected to be the best fair in the history of Punxsutawney, hundreds of old timers from many parts of the country have returned to visit scenes of their youth. No races are carded for tomorrow, but Thursday, Friday and Satuday excellent short-circuit horses will run for larger purses than have ever before been paid at a Jefferson county fair. A chariot race is carded for each day of the fair, with eight horses hitched to gold-wheeled carts.

Misses Ethel, Roxie and Emma Thomson are visiting with relatives in McCartney this week. While there they will attend the Fruit Hill picnic.

Miss Ehzabeth Yocum has returned to her home in Carnwath after vsiting for some time with friends in Clearfield.

PLANNING AIRPLANE FLIGHT, CANADA TO MEXICAN BORDER

San Diego, Cal. Aug. 29.—An air plane flight from the Mexican border to Canada is being planned by the Army Air Service today as its next achievement, following the feat of Lieutenant Richter and Captain Smith, in breaking endurance records flying round and round over San Diego. The new method of refueling the airplane while it is aloft, which was used with conspicuous success in the Smith-Richter flight would make the Mexican-Canadian trip a sure success.

If permission is given by authorities in Washington Major H. H. Arnold, Commandant at Rockwell Field plans to have a plane hop off within a week from Tia Juana, which is just over the Mexican border.

This plane would receive fuel and supplies from mother planes while flying at full speed, high over Sacramento and Medford, Oregon and if all went well, it would arrive in British Columbia in record breaking time.

NOT McKENZIE BABY

New York, Aug. 29.—"That is not the body of my baby."

Peter McKenzie, father of Lillian, three-month-old child, kidnapped a week ago, at the morgue today viewed the remains of an infant found in the East River and turned away with a shake of his head.

There are no clews to the disappearance of Lillian, the "crying baby," who was lifted from her perambulator while her mother was shopping a few steps away.

LITERACY TEST IS ADVOCATED AS A VOTING REQUISITE

Philadelphia, Aug. 29.—(United Press)—A constitutional amendment to the state constitution permitting only citizens who can read and write to vote is being prepared here by men and women political leaders.

Twenty states now have literacy tests and many persons in Pennsylvania are now advocating a law that would require every voter to read and write intelligently and intelligibly.

Whether or not the literacy test is adopted in the commonwealth depends on the proposal to revise the state constitution which is placed before the voters this fall.

A. L. BAND MAKES A BIG HIT WITH THEIR "ON TO READING" CONCERT PROGRAM

The American Legion Band concert given at the High School auditorium last evening was one of the most delightful musical events of the year. Beginning with a crashing Sousa march, the big band of fifty pieces literally swept the audience off their seats with a storm of full toned melody. A feature of this march was the use of the trumpets which lent an oriental tone to an otherwise typically American military march. The overture "Isabella" was exquisitely rendered as was the Caprice from the pen of Chaminade.

Following this wonderful musical menu Mr. Robert Mitchell sang "The World Is Waiting for the Sunrise," a composition admirably suited to his mellowed voice and of course he was forced to respond to a tounderous encore. Thayer's own march, "The Booster," was the next offering and was well received. Scenes from Romeo and Juliet and a beautiful intermezzo brought the program down to the big feature of the evening, the appearance once again of Miss Mary Mitchell, who is such a favorite here. Miss Mitchell immediately captivated the audience with "Ah, Wondrous Morn" and responded to deafening applause with a lilting song of poetic color.

"The Blue and Gray" patrol wound up a program that would have given credit to any great band and if our band does not walk off with the honors at Reading there will be something rotten in Denmark.

3 YEAR OLD TOT EATEN ALIVE BY HOGS; PARENTS LIVED AT KANE

Kane, Aug. 28.—A terrible story of the fate of little Eugene McElphatrick, three and a half year old son of Mr. and Mrs. Domer G. McElphatrick, formerly of Kane, comes from a town in Canada where Mrs. McElphatrick is now residing, Mr. McElphatrick, who is a driller, being now on the water, enroute from Persia to America.

The story gleamed from meagre information received in Kane from Mrs. Jack Nelson, of St. Louis, who is a sister of Mrs. McElphatrick and also a former resident of Kane, is to the effect that Mrs. McElphatrick and the child were visiting at her grandfather's farm for the day, August 13, the farm being located a short distance from the place where Mrs. McElphatrick resides. The little one wandered to an enclosure where about 25 hogs were kept and was attacked by the swine. No one was near at the time and subsequent search for the child resulted in the discovery of his mutilated remains. The hogs were still busy at their gruesome meal when the discovery was made. The details of the affair are sickening—the child's head having been eaten from the body.

According to reports the child mother was never allowed to see the remains, the funeral and burial being held as quickly as possible. Mrs. McElphatrick and her sister, Mrs. Nelson, are both nearly prostrated with grief over the horrible occurrence.

HERGDOLL SAYS HE PLANTED GOLD FOUND BY ROAD WORKMAN

Ebenbach, Germany, Aug. 28.—"I am certain that the gold discovered in the hills near Hagerstown, Md., is part of the money I buried there before leaving the United States," said Grover Cleveland Bergdoll, wealthy American draft dodger today. He continued:

"I could not describe by word of mouth just where I secreted my money but I could go to the place. It was in the mountainous region around Hagerstown. I planted more than $19,999 there.

"I renounce all claim to the money. The lucky finder can have it. I congratulate him. I hope he needs it. I also buried some money in West Virginia, but I will not say just where. Maybe I will get it back some day."

Bergdoll is living amidst great secrecy here owing to the recent attempt to kidnap him.

COUNTIES OBJECT TO MAINTAINING PRISONS FOR STATE

Philadelphia, Aug. 29. (United Press)—Plans to distribute 450 prisoners at the Eastern Penitentiary to the various county jails in the eastern part of the state have met with approval and disapproval of the various county commissioners

Final decision on the proposal to transfer the prisoners so as to relieve the overcrowded condition at the Eastern Penitentiary will be made on September 5, when Judge James Gay Gordon, Jr., holds a general hearing on the subject.

York, Dauphin, Lancaster, Berks, Northumberland and Columbia counties have already voiced their opposition to any transfer of prisoners. In nearly every case it is objected that facilities of the country prisons are inadequate to handle long term convicts.

Some of the counties of the state that have been asked to show cause why they cannot accept thirty or less prisoners from the eastern penitentiary to relieve the congestion in that institution have sent word that they would accept their quota provided the prisoners transferred would be convicts sentenced from their counties.

WHITFIELD WINS IN MISSISSIPPI

Jackson, Miss., Aug. 29.—Returns from 70 counties in the state, 30 of which were complete, showed Henry H. Whitfield leading ex-Governor Theodore Bilbo in the Democratic gubernatorial nomination approximately 15,000 votes. The votes stood: Whitfield, 74,710; Bilbo, 59,689. There is no opposition party. The winner of the primary is conceded the election.

SPEAKING OF RECKLESS DRIVING

All the damphools are not dead yet and some of them at least are driving automobiles in this vicinity. One of them drove up Third street this morning as the 10 o'clock Pennsylvania train was pulling out for Curwensville. As the train neared the crossing the driver of the automobile stepped on the gas and swung around ahead of the train and did not have six feet to spare as he dashed across the track ahead of the engine.

The engineer had time enough to note the license number of the machine which was 527-046 and that driver will no doubt hear from the State Highway Department regarding his recklessness, and he certainly deserves to hear from it.

AMERICAN OFFICIAL REPORTS RUSSIAN COMMUNISM DEAD

Washington, Aug. 29.—"Communism is dead and abandoned. Russia is on the road to recovery," said Col. William M. Haskell, in immediate charge of the American relief in Russia. In his final report to Secretary of Commerce Hoover, Colonel Haskell said:

"A realization by the Russian people that the strong American relief system was futile and contained the spirit to save these millions of strangers from the death that engulfed them must have furnished food for thought."

Secretary of State Hughes' policy on Soviet Russia has been that the changes necessary in Russia for American recognition to resumption of diplomatic relations should take place voluntarily within Russia.

TAKE SPROUL TO TASK FOR LONDON TALK ON HARDING

Washington, Aug. 29.—The theory that the late President Harding's death was hastened by prohibition or by his abstinence from intoxicating liquor, expressed in London by ex-Governor Sproul of Pennsylvania, was scouted by Mr. Harding's close friends. Sproul was quoted by a London newspaper as saying that Mr. Harding's death was "accelerated by the fact that he thought it his duty because of prohibition to set a public example and abstain from the use of liquor."

It was well known to Mr. Harding's friends and close associates that for a considerable time previous to his Alaskan trip he had been a total abstainer. As a Senator he had occasionally enjoyed a drink but he had never indulged in intoxicating liquors to such an extent that total abstemiousness would be injurious and for that reason his complete abstemiousness from it had no effect on his health, his friends said today.

On his Alaskan trip the President took no liquor. His public addresses on that trip were constant appeals to his countrymen for a greater respect for law and higher moral plan of living. The President had come to believe firmly in prohibition both on moral and economic grounds.

Clearfield people will be interested in knowing that the brick being used in the building of the residence of R. I. Fulton on West Side, and Mrs. Sloss Bloom in the Home Builders' Company plot, are furnished by two former Clearfield boys. The brick, which are fine specimens, are from the Summitville Face Brick Company of Summitville, Ohio, and this concern is owned by two former Clearfield boys, Hursh Johnson, son of Geo. W. Obedience to Law.

No people can be called fully civilized until there is widely diffused among its members the sense of obligation, not merely to obey the law, but to obey it willingly, and co-operate in enforcing and maintaining it.—Ramsey Muir.

Find Pleasure in Work.

If you want knowledge you must toil for it. If pleasure, toil for it. Toil is the law. Pleasure comes through toil and not by self indulgence and indolence. When one gets to love work, his life is a happy one.—Ruskin.

True Nobility.

DR. THOMAS M. KELLEY DIES

Mrs. Daisy Thorn Johnson was advised last evening by wire that Dr. Thomas M. Kelley, of Philadelphia, well known in Clearfield, had died suddenly at his home in the Quaker City Monday night last.

Dr. Kelley, who was 47 years of age, was the husband of Lillian Barclay, daughter of the late 'Squire John C. Barclay, of Clearfield. His death was caused by pneumonia and he was sick but 24 hours.

Dr. Kelley is survived by his widow and two children, aged 9 and 12 years.

Time's Changes.

In these days of the fashionable and easy divorce, it will interest freedom-seeking husbands to read in "All About Coffee" that in Turkey, during the Seventeenth century, to refuse or neglect to give coffee to one's wife was a legitimate cause for divorce. The men made promises when marrying never to let their wives be without coffee. Nowadays the wife's neglect to serve her husband good coffee has led to many a separation.

ODDS AND ENDS AND THINGS

By J. D. C.

A historical student has written a letter to the New York Herald showing the peculiar brevity of the terms in office of the six presidents elected from Ohio. Those were William Henry Harrison, who died after a service of 31 days; James A. Garfield after one of four months; William McKinley in his fifth year in office, and Warren G. Harding in his third year. Ruth erford B. Hayes and William H. Taft each lived though a single four-year term. This tabulation deals only with the state from which the President was elected. Grant and the second Harrison were born in Ohio. The first Harrison was born in Virginia.

Another curious coincidence is that the last three presidents to die in office have all died in connection with trips. Garfield was going to a Williams College commencement when shot at the Pennsylvania Railroad station; McKinley was shot after speaking at the Pan-American Exposition at Buffalo, and now Mr. Harding has passed away at San Francisco on his return from Alaska.

To keep living everybody must have sufficient air to breathe, and to keep on being healthy the air should be sufficiently pure and sufficiently moist and sufficiently cool, says the United States Health Service, in a bulletin on ventilation.

"In the open air, away from noxious gases, ventilation looks after itself," says the service. "Elsewhere, particularly in houses and other closed places, it must be looked after. No matter how pure the air in such space may be any one who enters it at once begins to pollute it with his breath; and it will ultimately become injurious to health unless it is renewed, either by natural means or by artificial means.

"Renewal is necessary because when breathing in one takes away something from the air (oxygen) and when breathing out one adds something to the air (carbon dioxide). Oxygen is taken from in-breathed air by the blood that circulates through the lungs and is carried away to help the food build up the body, keep it warm, and energize it. Oxygen constitutes about one-fifth of the air, and about one-fifth of that one-fifth breathed out, unchanged, and may be breathed over again.

"Carbon dioxide is part of the waste that is left over in the body when oxygen and food combine to build up the body, etc. It is picked up by the blood, carried to the lungs, and breathed out. It is poisonous and injures the body when it is breathed in again.

"Rosenau estimates that to keep healthy a man weighing 160 pounds needs 2,400 cubic feet of fresh air every hour when resting; 3,200 when doing light work, and 6,100 when doing hard work. A woman weighing 120 pounds needs five-sixths as much; and a child weighing 80 pounds needs seven-twelfths as much.

"The simplest way of renewing used air by a supply of unused air is by opening the windows; but unless these are very carefully placed and supervised they seldom distribute the air evenly and they often cause persons in one part of a workroom to suffer from heat and bad air while those in other parts shiver and sneeze. If natural ventilation is insufficient the best way to renew the air in factories is by the use of big electric fans so placed as to draw off the foul air, so to drive in the fresh air, or both.

"Temperature and humidity (per cent of moisture in the air) are also closely associated with ventilation. The body heat given off by persons congregated in a workroom, church, theatre or other buildings raises the temperature and increases the moisture. When the temperature rises above 86 degees Fahrenheit and the humidity above 80 per cent they cause considerable discomfort; when they rise higher they cause suffering; and when they rise still higher they may cause heatstroke. In winter, on the other hand, the heated air in buildings is usually too dry; often the humidity falls to 20 per cent., which is lower than that in a desert. Air as dry as this draws moisture from the skin and from the mucous membrances of the nose, throat, and mouth and irritates them. To be comfortable the humidity of a workroom should be about 50 per cent and it would pay the plant manager to see that it is kept that high, for at 50 per cent less heat is necessary and coal is saved. A temperature of 62 degrees Fahrenheit is quite high enough if the work is active.

"The ventilation of many factories and offices depends on factors over which the workers may have little control. At home, however, in their rooms they have fewer or no other persons to consider and may be able to insist on pure air especially at night.

"The idea that night air is unhealthy and must be shut out is a survival from the days when men barricaded themselves to keep enemies from stealing upon them under cover of darkness; it was reinforced later, when malaria-bearing mosquitoes entered by night through unclosed windows. Night air is exactly like day air; and neither of them is anything like so injurious as the air in a room whose windows are closed and whose door is probably never opened all night long; no matter how many persons are breathing into it carbon dioxide—and rebreathing it—all night long.

"If drafts upon the bed are feared they may be prevented by getting a piece of board about twelve inches wide and nearly as long as the window sash is wide. Raise the lower sash, slip the board in beneath it and draw the sash down upon it. Outside air will travel upward between the two sashes and spill into the room over the top of the lower sash. This is nothing like so satisfactory as having the upper sash completely down but it will do a lot for that sick headachy feeling that you have had every morning on waking up."

CHEERFUL WORDS

For Many a Clearfield Household.

To have the pains and aches of a bad back removed—to be entirely free from annoying, dangerous urinary disorders, is enough to make any kidney sufferer grateful. The following advice of one who has suffered will prove helpful to hundreds of Clearfield readers.

Mrs. B. Smith, 434 River St., Clearfield, says: "I had an attack of kidney trouble that gave me quite a lot of annoyance. I had awful pains in the small of my back which I noticed more when doing my washing or bending over. I had severe headaches and was tired and lame all the time. I was advised to try Doan's Kidney Pills, so I bought a box at Irwin's Drug Store. I used one box of Doan's and the pain went away and the headaches and lameness left. I have had just a slight attack since but I am glad to recommend Doan's Kidney Pills, as they again relieved me. I think they are a wonderful kidney remedy."

KEEP YOUR SHIRT ON BUT TAKE OFF YOUR COAT

A little over a month ago The Progress, under the caption "Just Keep Your Shirt On," expressed some doubt as to the possible working out of the New York Central's proposal that it be given the right to acquire the physical property and trackage rights which would enable it to set up, via Clearfield, a trunk line under single operation and control, running across the State of Pennsylvania.

The Progress was not, however, blind to the importance of such a proposal and has since that time been on the alert for evidence that would indicate that local effort and energy put forth behind the proposal would not be wasted. Since the very first publication of President Smith's representations to the Interstate Commerce Commission there has been a favorable response to the suggestion from all quarters not biased by purely selfish or sectional interest. Probably the best evidence of the merits of the plan was the cognizance given it by the president of the Philadelphia & Reading, who could find nothing to say against the suggestion except that the route was already there and being used; a fact that is not disputed but which does not mean that the route can be operated as a trunk line, which is what is being sought after.

Philadelphia also dignified the proposal by a vigorous assault upon it, that great city of Brotherly Love apparently not being satisfied with having the transportation facilities of the great Pennsy trunk line as well as a southern outlet by way of the B. & O. The tentative recommendation called for the allotment of certain of the same property and trackage sought by the New York Central to the B. & O., a procedure which would have no other effect but to further throw out of balance the transportation system within the state of Pennsylvania by involving Philadelphia and Pittsburgh, thus denying to the central part of the state—the source of raw material—further development.

President Smith's suggestion is still only a suggestion and the beautiful thought that Clearfield may yet be located on a great trunk line is dependent on that suggestion being brought forcibly to the attention of the I. C. C. It is too early to shout over results, therefore the adjuration to "keep your shirt on."

But how about our coats? They should be off now with every mother's son of us boosting shoulder to shoulder with President Smith. His is the logical plan for giving Pennsylvania a more adequate transportation system. Do not make the mistake of thinking that it is not worth your best effort. It is the opportunity of the decade for the Clearfield route. Suggestions as to how we can best bring our mite of influence to bear on the proposal will likely be forthcoming in the very near future. Clearfield should respond heartily, willingly and forcefully to any suggestion for support of this far-reaching improvement.

What a Wonderful Opportunity for a Good Leader!

The public has a right to expect, and does expect that the police authorities and the courts of Allegheny county will leave nothing undone in their efforts to apprehend, try, convict and punish those guilty of the crimes committed in the rioting at Carnegie Saturday night. The disgrace of the affair can be atoned for in no other way than by proceeding fearlessly and impartially against the responsible parties, regardless of whether they are members of the Ku Klux Klan or of the citizens who attacked them.

Individuals will have to answer to juries for the murder done and the assaults and batteries which marked the affray. The Klan itself, and the citizens of Carnegie who made the hostile demonstration against it are being tried at the bar of public opinion. There is no question as to the verdict. The blame must be shared on both sides.

The Klansmen did wrong in going ahead with the parade after a permit for it had been refused by the borough authorities and the police had forbidden it. The mob did wrong in taking the law into its own hands by trying to prevent the parade.

The phase of the subject which demands greatest attention is the necessity of putting an end to these riots. An appeal must be made to the good sense of the Klansmen. It is obvious from the size of the local membership that the organization has in its ranks many men of good qualities who deplore bloodshed and violence unless they lead to the accomplishment of something beneficial. It is respectfully submitted for their consideration that public demonstrations by the Klan do no good and have been proved to incite rioting. A parade of the Klansmen settles no question, establishes no principle, advances no cause.

It is understood that the order plans other demonstrations in Western Pennsylvania towns in the near future. Christianity, patriotism and respect for law dictate that the proposed parades be called off. Let humanity rather than selfish pride be served.

July Smashed Sales Records For The Ford Selling Organization

Detroit Mich., Aug. 29.—July brought two news sales records to the Ford Motor Company.

In addition to bringing retail deliveries of Ford Cars and Trucks into the mid-summer season with a new high record for the month, July also carried the sales figures for the year past the million mark.

Increasing popularity of the Ford is most strikingly illustrated in the figures just announced which show that from January 1 to August 1 this year sales of cars and trucks by the Ford Motor Company totaled 1,050,986 in the United States alone. And the rapidity of the increase in demand is further emphasized by the fact that sales for the first seven months of the year, during which the million mark was passed, were 391,798 greater than the same period last year when they totaled 659,190.

July sales mounted to 156,908 an increase of 36,821 over the same month a year ago.

For sixteen consecutive months now, Ford sales have been well over 100,000 every month.

Production, which, by the way, is set at a higher schedule for August than any month so far, apparently continues to be the only factor limiting sales of Ford Cars and Trucks.

Progress Editorial For Women

A SERIOUS HURT

By Florence Davies.

An African native was brought into a hospital with a spear wound in his side and a bullet hole in his leg. As the leg was in a bad condition the doctor started right away to work on the wound.

"Oh, don't worry about that," exclaimed the native. "Just look at this spear wound. It hurts me where I laugh."

The native counselled better than he knew. Better to die of gangrene in the leg than to live with a wound that hurts you where you laugh. Some people seem to have been grievously hurt with that sort of wounds, and never to have recovered.

Without the ability to laugh, life takes on a kind of density. It is not that living without laughter is dull and drear. It is worse than that. It is unadaptable and inflexible, it has a kind of unyielding quality which makes the going hard.

But don't imagine that laughter has to be audible, or even visible for that matter. That kind of actual laughter is mighty wholesome. It clears the air, even better than tears, and it has a way of putting the right kind of lines into the face. Also they say that it's good for the digestion.

But the real tragedy comes when people are no longer able to distinguish between the serious and the merely ridiculous, when they act as if they were actually hurt where they laugh.

"When I begin to talk like that again," said one woman to another, "I wish you'd just laugh at me." The woman who asked for the particular kind of punishment had been making a mountain out of a mole hill.

Nothing could be more ridiculous than that, yet we all indulge in that failing when our sense of humor gets out of working order. People who take themselves or the world too seriously invariably have something wrong with their ability to laugh, and often they want to laugh at themselves.

And so the native was quite right. He wasn't worried about his leg. It mended be he could go through life on a crutch. But going through life without laughter would be a worse impediment than going through life without an arm or a leg.

You can't get angry at people, for instance, when you see that they are more ridiculous than offensive, more to be pitied than blamed.

If you can't see that, you are often apt to carry a chip on your shoulder and to take offense at petty slights.

So whatever life does to you in the rough and tumble game, don't let it hand you a permanent hurt where you laugh.

A BIG MISTAKE

Word has gone out that the Labor Day Committee is going to charge a dollar admission on Labor Day at Irwin Park. This is a Big Mistake.

No admission is allowed to be charged to Irwin Park. The Park is Free. This is one of the stipulations in receiving this beautiful Park as a gift from Mr. Hugh Irvin and his sister, Miss Elizabeth Irvin.

Even the twenty five cents we are going to ask people to donate for parking cars is not allowed to be a charge.

You can even park your car without the charge of one cent.

The committee is merely asking that twenty five cents be donated for the trouble of keeping men on the ground all day directing the parking of cars. This will mean a great amount of labor. This twenty-five cents will be turned over to the park commission, to be applied to the building of an auditorium. In fact every cent realized on Labor Day is to go for this purpose.

Never let money keep you away from Irwin Park, Curwensville. You are as welcome here as the flowers in May, without money and without price.

Death Followed Boast.

In South Africa once several natives were cowering in a kraal during a severe thunderstorm when one man began to chaff the others about their fears, and said he would show them that no one need be afraid. If he stood in front of a door and blew two blasts on his horn, said this modern Alexander, nothing could injure him. So he seized the horn and, standing in the doorway, blew a long blast. The man fell dead, struck by the same bolt that had killed the ox whose horn was used.

Hard to Photograph.

Two animals that will try the patience of the photographer are the dragon fly and rove beetle, says Nature Magazine of Washington. Both are ferocious preying creatures, but, like most wild things, if treated properly, will submit to captivity without fatal results. By placing a large dragon fly in a large glass box and supplying plenty of houseflies, splendid pictures are secured of this insect hawk feeding upon its victims.

NOTICE REGARDING THE OPENING OF SCHOOLS

The public schools of Clearfield Borough will open on Monday, September 10th. All pupils who are six years old, or will be six years old before March 1st. 1924 may enter school September 10th. First grade pupils will be admitted between September 10th. and September 24th. First grade pupils who do not present themselves on or before September 24th. may not be admitted during the year. This is not an arbitrary act of the School Board but is, however, in accordance with the School Law of Pennsylvania.

Every pupil in order to attend the Public Schools must give evidence of having been successfully vaccinated. Boys and girls who expect to attend the Public Schools and have not been vaccinated, should have the matter attended to at once, as it is unfair to school and pupils to have the pupils suffer the inconvenience of being vaccinated and adjusting themselves to the requirements of school life.

Teachers, residing in Clearfield, who are to teach in theSystem during the year 1923—1924 may register for the Annual County Institute any time during the week of August 27th, in the High School Office between the hours of 9:30 A. M. and 3:00 P. M.

Clearfield High School will resume all school activities for the term 1923-24, Monday, September 10. On Monday, August 27, and thruout the week all resident and non-resident pupils should come to the office and have an enrollment card made out previous to the opening of school. If you will be a non-resident pupil and can arrange to enroll before school opens it will be appreciated at the High School office.—(Adv.)

THE DIE IS CAST; PINCHOT PLAN OF SETTLEMENT READY

Operators and Miners to Learn Fully of the Governor's Plan at a Meeting Tonight at 6.

ACCORD UNLIKELY

THE DIE IS inysfiff

Harrisburg, Pa., Aug. 29.—The plan of peace that will make or break the imminent anthracite coal strike was drawn up today by Governor Pinchot.

Before midnight it will be delivered to the deadlocked miners and operators, who will accept it and maintain the mines, or reject and precipitate a strike next Friday mid night.

The plan embodies a demand for concession from both parties, it is learned. While there is no authorative intimation of its contents, the plan is believed as follows:

First: A half way check-off be established, one that will protect the operators against recognition of the union by its phraseology and enable the union to collect the dues of the miners at the mines on pay day.

Second: Give the miners a wage increase, perhaps as high as ten per cent.

Third: Establish an eight hour day

If these three plans are unacceptable by either of the two parties, the Governor has been advised to ask them to declare a thirty day truce and maintain operation while new efforts are made to thresh out the difficulty.

It is learned also that Pinchot has been informed how he can seize and operate the mines. The six advisors of the Governor have presented to him a scheme which will enable him to carry out the threat "that the mines can be and must be maintained." These advisors pointed out that if the miners accept, but the operators refuse this proffer of peace, the Governor may seize and operate and appeal to the miners to work with him to save the public.

Lewis Arrives

Harrisburg, Pa., Aug. 29.—John L. Lewis, President of the United Mine Workers arrived here this morning and immediately went into conference with Philip Murray temporary head of the mine delegates.

Lewis came from Philadelphia, where he had established "strike headquarters."

Harrisburg, Aug. 29.—The definite proposal of Governor Pinchot for settlement of the nearing anthracite coal strike will be submitted to the miners and operators at 6:00 p. m. tonight in a joint conference.

This announcement was made from the executive chamber today when word came out that the suggestions would be a definite proposal, which should be accepted or rejected by the opposing parties. The meeting will be open to the public just as the first conferences was

Attorney J. J. Curran of Wilkes-Barre conferred with Governor Pinchot today and brought the attitude of John L. Lewis before the executive. Curran has been conferring with Lewis in Atlantic City and Philadelphia.

CLEARFIELD PUBLIC SCHOOLS WILL OPEN ON SEPTEMBER 10TH.

The Clearfield Public Schools will open on Monday, Septembe 10, 1923, the opening date being delayed a week by reason of the fact that the Clearfield County Teachers' Institute will be held in the High School building the week of September the 3rd. this year.

Pupils may get their blue slips at the High School Office any day now between the hours of 9 A. M. and 1 P. M.

All children must have been successfully vaccinated before being admitted. This is a hard and fast provision of the State law and the School Board has no option in the matter. So be sure your child has been successfully vaccinated before sending him to school.

FINAL PLAYGROUND GAMES THURSDAY

Beginning at 2:00 p. m. at Witmer Park. Volley ball, boys and girls simultaneously, then horseshoes and then base ball finishing with the presentation of trophies for which the teams have been fighting for 10 weeks. The 1923 playground season will then be over.

KLAN WILL BE PERMITTED TO PARADE IN SCOTTDALE

Knights of the Ku Klux Klan will not be refused a permit to parade in Scottdale next Saturday, despite the occurrences in Carnegia last Saturday night when a general riot followed an attempt to parade thru that town.

Burgess W. L. Shaffer of Scottdale announced yesterday that since he became Burgess he had not refused any organization a permit to parade in the borough and he could see no reason why he should discriminate against the Klan. If the members of the organization hold their meeting as scheduled, he said they will be permitted to march in the borough.

LIGHTING MATCHES IN THEATRE BAD BUSINESS

Youngsters are warned that it is against the law and a dangerous procedure to light matches in any theatre during a momentary shut-off of the lightning system.

This occurred several times in the Punxsy theatres Monday night. As soon as the lights went out thoughtless boys began lighting matches and yelling. The lighting of matches and dropping of them might start a fire that would cause the deaths of dozens of people. The yelling might start a stampede that would end in the death of many. When the lights go out show good common sense and sit tight. The management will arrange new ones in a short time.

SEC. DAVIS BRANDS ATTACK ON COURT ASSAULT ON U. S.

Minneapolis, Minn., Aug. 29.—Attempts to limit the power of the United States Supreme Court in testing the constitutionality of legislation is "an attack on our theory of government," John W. Davis, New York, declared in an address opening the convention of the American Bar Association here today.

Davis urged the continuation of the five to four decision and appealed for American participation in a World Court.

INHERITS $21,000; TRYING TO SPEND IT IN RECORD TIME

Philadelphia, Aug., 29 — (United Press)—Edward Parker, a sixty-one year old negro bootblack is living a life of luxury and ease.

Parker sports six new suits of clothes, two high silk hats, seven pairs of patent leather shoes with white buttons, four cream vests, red neckties and purple sox.

The grocery wagon backs up to Parker's door every morning. The boy takes out a big basket of vegetables, and than half a dozen dressed chickens.

Parker has $21,000 to spend. He recently inherited this small fortune from a brother who died at Charleston, S .C. The minute he heard of his wind-fall he closed up his place of business and started to "rest".

"My motto is: Money you aint never stuck by me and you aint going to stick by me now," Parker tells his friends. "I gives you six months to leave me."

"About ten years ago my father died and left me $12,000. I got rid of that in a year. Now I am older and more experienced and should be able to go through twice that much in half the time."

To friends Parker advises for luck there is nothing like carrying a bone from the left front leg of a black cat, saying that the rabbit foot charm "aint to be mentioned in the same day."

Mrs Clark Witherite and children have returned from a visit with relatives in Kerrmoor.

LOYSVILLE BAND BOY LOSES LIFE AS TRUCK OVERTURNS AT TURTLE CREEK

The large truck which carries the Loysville Orphans' Home Band, was wrecked near East Liberty, Pa., on Wednessay evening, August 22nd, when one of the occupants was killed and seventeen others more or less injured. The truck was descending Turtle Creek hill at the foot of which is a railroad bridge. The large machine struck the bridge and overturned upon the railroad tracks.

The Loysville Orphans' Home Band has been visiting Clearfield annually for several years and played here at the Court House. The band was scheduled to play at the Huntingdon county fair this week.

These boys have made many warm friends during their visits to Clearfield and the community in general extends sincere sympathy on this sad occasion.

WELLS AND SPRINGS SHOULD BE GIVEN GREAT ATTENTION

Harrsburg, Pa., Aug. 28.—(United Press)—Careful supervision of wells and springs, the natural water supply for thousands of people in the rural communities ,was urged today by Dr. Charles H. Miner, Secretary of Health, in his weekly health talk. His article follows:

By DR. CHARLES H. MINER
State Secretary of Health

Wells and springs are the natural water supplies for thousands of people. Too often they are unsafely located or inadequately protected against contamination.

The shallow dug well is more liable to contaminate than the deeper, driven or drilled type. In general, a well should be placed as distant as possible and above sources of pollution such as out houses, cesspools, sewers and barn yards.

To keep the surface drainage out, the cover should be tight, preferably concrete, as plank covering is seldom water tight. It should be higher in the center and sloping to the sides. A trough for waste water should be provided. The walls or casings should extend above the ground surface and a good pump, bolted tightly to the well cover or casing should be used, never a pail and rope.

A spring used as a source of water supply should be surrounded with water tight masonry walls, provided with a roof, equipped with a trap door which should be kept closed. Water should never be taken from a spring by dipping with any utensil, but from an overflow pipe inserted in the wall for the purpose or by means of a pump. A drainage ditch should be dug on the upper side of the spring to intercept and divert surface water.

PRINCESS ANASTASIA NEAR DEATH

London, Aug. 29.—Princess Anastasia of Greece, formerly Mrs. Wm. B. Leeds of the United States, is at the point of death here. Specialists have been summoned. The princess has undergone four operations since she was stricken ill early in the summer with intestinal trouble. Hope for her recovery now has been abandoned.

The Princess' fortune is estimated at $25 000,000. In the event of her death the money will be placed in a trust fund for her son, it is understood.

PUNXSUTAWNEY FAIR STARTS

Punxsutawney, Pa., Aug. 28.—With fair weather promised for what is expected to be the best fair in the history of Punxsutawney, hundreds of old timers from many parts of the country have returned to visit scenes of their youth. No races are carded for tomorrow, but Thursday, Friday and Satuday excellent short-circuit horses will run for larger purses than have ever before been paid at a Jefferson county fair. A chariot race is carded for each day of the fair, with eight horses hitched to gold-wheeled carts.

Misses Ethel, Roxie and Emma Thomson are visiting with relatives in McCartney this week. While there they will attend the Fruit Hill picnic.

Miss Ehzabeth Yocum has returned to her home in Carnwath after vsiting for some time with friends in Clearfield.

PLANNING AIRPLANE FLIGHT, CANADA TO MEXICAN BORDER

San Diego, Cal. Aug. 29.—An air plane flight from the Mexican border to Canada is being planned by the Army Air Service today as its next achievement, following the feat of Lieutenant Richter and Captain Smith, in breaking endurance records flying round and round over San Diego. The new method of refueling the airplane while it is aloft, which was used with conspicuous success in the Smith-Richter flight would make the Mexican-Canadian trip a sure success.

If permission is given by authorities in Washington Major H. H. Arnold, Commandant at Rockwell Field plans to have a plane hop off within a week from Tia Juana, which is just over the Mexican border.

This plane would receive fuel and supplies from mother planes while flying at full speed, high over Sacramento and Medford, Oregon and if all went well, it would arrive in British Columbia in record breaking time.

NOT McKENZIE BABY

New York, Aug. 29.—"That is not the body of my baby."

Peter McKenzie, father of Lillian, three-month-old child, kidnapped a week ago, at the morgue today viewed the remains of an infant found in the East River and turned away with a shake of his head.

There are no clews to the disappearance of Lillian, the "crying baby," who was lifted from her perambulator while her mother was shopping a few steps away.

LITERACY TEST IS ADVOCATED AS A VOTING REQUISITE

Philadelphia, Aug. 29.—(United Press)—A constitutional amendment to the state constitution permitting only citizens who can read and write to vote is being prepared here by men and women political leaders.

Twenty states now have literacy tests and many persons in Pennsylvania are now advocating a law that would require every voter to read and write intelligently and intelligibly.

Whether or not the literacy test is adopted in the commonwealth depends on the proposal to revise the state constitution, which is placed before the voters this fall.

A. L. BAND MAKES A BIG HIT WITH THEIR "ON TO READING" CONCERT PROGRAM

The American Legion Band concert given at the High School auditorium last evening was one of the most delightful musical events of the year. Beginning with a crashing Sousa march, the big band of fifty pieces literally swept the audience off their seats with a storm of full toned melody. A feature of this march was the use of the trumpets which lent an oriental tone to an otherwise typically American military march. The overture "Isabella" was exquisitely rendered as was the Caprice from the pen of Chaminade.

Following this wonderful musical menu Mr. Robert Mitchell sang "The World Is Waiting for the Sunrise," a composition admirably suited to his mellowed voice and of course he was forced to respond to a tounderous encore. Thayer's own march, "The Booster," was the next offering and was well received. Scenes from Romeo and Juliet and a beautiful intermezzo brought the program down to the big feature of the evening, the appearance once again of Miss Mary Mitchell, who is such a favorite here. Miss Mitchell immediately captivated the audience with "Ah, Wondrous Morn" and responded to deafening applause with a lilting song of poetic color.

"The Blue and Gray" patrol wound up a program that would have given credit to any great band and if our band does not walk off with the honors at Reading there will be something rotten in Denmark.

3 YEAR OLD TOT EATEN ALIVE BY HOGS; PARENTS LIVED AT KANE

Kane, Aug. 28.—A terrible story of the fate of little Eugene McElphatrick, three and a half year old son of Mr. and Mrs. Domer G. McElphatrick, formerly of Kane, comes from a town in Canada where Mrs. McElphatrick is now residing, Mr. McElphatrick, who is a driller, being now on the water, enroute from Persia to America.

The story gleamed from meagre information received in Kane from Mrs. Jack Nelson, of St. Louis, who is a sister of Mrs. McElphatrick and also a former resident of Kane, is to the effect that Mrs. McElphatrick and the child were visiting at her grandfather's farm for the day, August 13, the farm being located a short distance from the place where Mrs. McElphatrick resides. The little one wandered to an enclosure where about 25 hogs were kept and was attacked by the swine. No one was near at the time and subsequent search for the child resulted in the discovery of his mutilated remains. The hogs were still busy at their gruesome meal when the discovery was made. The details of the affair are sickening—the child's head having been eaten from the body.

According to reports the child mother was never allowed to see the remains, the funeral and burial being held as quickly as possible. Mrs. McElphatrick and her sister, Mrs. Nelson, are both nearly prostrated with grief over the horrible occurrence.

HERGDOLL SAYS HE PLANTED GOLD FOUND BY ROAD WORKMAN

Ebenbach, Germany, Aug. 28.—"I am certain that the gold discovered in the hills near Hagerstown, Md., is part of the money I buried there before leaving the United States," said Grover Cleveland Bergdoll, wealthy American draft dodger today. He continued:

"I could not describe by word of mouth just where I secreted my money but I could go to the place. It was in the mountainous region around Hagerstown. I planted more than $19,999 there.

"I renounce all claim to the money. The lucky finder can have it. I congratulate him. I hope he needs it. I also buried some money in West Virginia, but I will not say just where. Maybe I will get it back some day."

Bergdoll is living amidst great secrecy here owing to the recent attempt to kidnap him.

COUNTIES OBJECT TO MAINTAINING PRISONS FOR STATE

Philadelphia, Aug. 29. (United Press)—Plans to distribute 450 prisoners at the Eastern Penitentiary to the various county jails in the eastern part of the state have met with approval and disapproval of the various county commissioners

Final decision on the proposal to transfer the prisoners so as to relieve the overcrowded condition at the Eastern Penitentiary will be made on September 5, when Judge James Gay Gordon, Jr., holds a general hearing on the subject.

York, Dauphin, Lancaster, Berks, Northumberland and Columbia counties have already voiced their opposition to any transfer of prisoners. In nearly every case it is objected that facilities of the country prisons are inadequate to handle long term convicts.

Some of the counties of the state that have been asked to show cause why they cannot accept thirty or less prisoners from the eastern penitentiary to relieve the congestion in that institution have sent word that they would accept their quota provided the prisoners transferred would be convicts sentenced from their counties.

WHITFIELD WINS IN MISSISSIPPI

Jackson, Miss., Aug. 29.—Returns from 70 counties in the state, 30 of which were complete, showed Henry H. Whitfield leading ex-Governor Theodore Bilbo in the Democratic gubernatorial nomination approximately 15,000 votes. The votes stood: Whitfield, 74,710; Bilbo, 59,689. There is no opposition party. The winner of the primary is conceded the election.

SPEAKING OF RECKLESS DRIVING

All the damphools are not dead yet and some of them at least are driving automobiles in this vicinity. One of them drove up Third street this morning as the 10 o'clock Pennsylvania train was pulling out for Curwensville. As the train neared the crossing the driver of the automobile stepped on the gas and swung around ahead of the train and did not have six feet to spare as he dashed across the track ahead of the engine.

The engineer had time enough to note the license number of the machine which was 527-046 and that driver will no doubt hear from the State Highway Department regarding his recklessness, and he certainly deserves to hear from it.

AMERICAN OFFICIAL REPORTS RUSSIAN COMMUNISM DEAD

Washington, Aug. 29.—"Communism is dead and abandoned. Russia is on the road to recovery," said Col. William M. Haskell, in immediate charge of the American relief in Russia. In his final report to Secretary of Commerce Hoover, Colonel Haskell said:

"A realization by the Russian people that the strong American relief system was able and contained the spirit to save these millions of strangers from the death that engulfed them must have furnished food for thought."

Secretary of State Hughes' policy on Soviet Russia has been that the changes necessary in Russia for American recognition to resumption of diplomatic relations should take place voluntarily within Russia.

TAKE SPROUL TO TASK FOR LONDON TALK ON HARDING

Washington, Aug. 29.—The theory that the late President Harding's death was hastened by prohibition or by his abstinence from intoxicating liquor, expressed in London by ex-Governor Sproul of Pennsylvania, was scouted by Mr. Harding's close friends. Sproul was quoted by a London newspaper as saying that Mr. Harding's death was "accelerated by the fact that he thought it his duty because of prohibition to set a public example and abstain from the use of liquor."

It was well known to Mr. Harding's friends and close associates that for a considerable time previous to his Alaskan trip he had been a total abstainer. As a Senator he had occasionally enjoyed a drink but he had never indulged in intoxicating liquors to such an extent that total abstemiousness would be injurious and for that reason his complete abstemiousness from it had no effect on his health, his friends said today.

On his Alaskan trip the President took no liquor. His public addresses on that trip were constant appeals to his countrymen for a greater respect for law and higher moral plan of living. The President had come to believe firmly in prohibition both on moral and economic grounds.

FORMER CLEARFIELD BOYS MAKING FINE BRICK

Clearfield people will be interested in knowing that the brick being used in the building of the residence of R. I. Fulton on West Side, and Mrs. Sloss Bloom in the Home Builders' Company plot, are furnished by two former Clearfield boys. The brick, which are fine specimens, are from the Summitville Face Brick Company of Summitville, Ohio, and this concern is owned by two former Clearfield boys, Hursh Johnson, son of Geo. W. Johnson, and Horace Lynn, son of R. H. Lynn, of South Second street, who are forging to the front rapidly in the brick business, their product being in great demand the country over.

Obedience to Law.

No people can be called fully civilized until there is widely diffused among its members the sense of obligation, not merely to obey the law, but to obey it willingly, and co-operate in enforcing and maintaining it.—Ramsay Muir.

Find Pleasure in Work.

If you want knowledge you must toil for it. If pleasure, toil for it. Toil is the law. Pleasure comes through toil and not by self indulgence and indolence. When one gets to love work, his life is a happy one.—Ruskin.

True Nobility.

DR. THOMAS M. KELLEY DIES

Mrs. Daisy Thorn Johnson was advised last evening by wire that Dr. Thomas M. Kelley, of Philadelphia, well known in Clearfield, had died suddenly at his home in the Quaker City Monday night last.

Dr. Kelley, who was 47 years of age, was the husband of Lillian Barclay, daughter of the late 'Squire John C. Barclay, of Clearfield. His death was caused by pneumonia and he was sick but 24 hours.

Dr. Kelley is survived by his widow and two children, aged 9 and 12 years.

Time's Changes.

In these days of the fashionable and easy divorce, it will interest freedom-seeking husbands to read in "All About Coffee" that in Turkey, during the Seventeenth century, to refuse or neglect to give coffee to one's wife was a legitimate cause for divorce. The men made promises when marrying never to let their wives be without coffee. Nowadays the wife's neglect to serve her husband good coffe has led to many a separation.

WILLIAMSPORT SHERIFF DIES IN CEMETERY

Williamsport, Aug. 28.—Thomas M. Gray, sheriff of Lycoming county, fell dead in Wildwood cemetery this afternoon while attending the funeral of a relative. He was one of the pallbearers and was stricken with heart trouble.

He was one of the organizers of the New York-Pennsylvania Baseball League and was secretary of the Williamsport club in that league. He was recently the host to the State Association of Sheriffs when that organization held its annual convention in this city.

ODDS AND ENDS AND THINGS

By J. D. C.

A historical student has written a letter to the New York Herald showing the peculiar brevity of the terms in office of the six presidents elected from Ohio. Those were William Henry Harrison, who died after a service of 31 days; James A. Garfield after one of four months; William McKinley in his fifth year in office, and Warren G. Harding in his third year. Ruth erford B. Hayes and William H. Taft each lived though a single four-year term. This tabulation deals only with the state from which the President was elected. Grant and the second Harrison were born in Ohio. The first Harrison was born in Virginia.

Another curious coincidence is that the last three presidents to die in office have all died in connection with trips. Garfield was going to a Williams College commencement when shot at the Pennsylvania Railroad station; McKinley was shot after speaking at the Pan-American Exposition at Buffalo, and now Mr. Harding has passed away at San Francisco on his return from Alaska.

To keep living everybody must have sufficient air to breathe, and to keep on being healthy the air should be sufficiently pure and sufficiently moist and sufficiently cool, says the United States Health Service, in a bulletin on ventilation.

"In the open air, away from noxious gases, ventilation looks after itself," says the service. "Elsewhere, particularly in houses and other closed places, it must be looked after. No matter how pure the air in such space may be any one who enters it at once begins to pollute it with his breath; and it will ultimately become injurious to health unless it is renewed, either by natural means or by artificial means.

"Renewal is necessary because when breathing in one takes away something from the air (oxygen) and when breathing out one adds something to the air (carbon dioxide). Oxygen is taken from in-breathed air by the blood that circulates through the lungs and is carried away to help the food build up the body, keep it warm, and energize it. Oxygen constitutes about one-fifth of the air, and about one-fifth of that one-fifth breathed out, unchanged, and may be breathed over again.

"Carbon dioxide is part of the waste that is left over in the body when oxygen and food combine to build up the body, etc. It is picked up by the blood, carried to the lungs, and breathed out. It is poisonous and injures the body when it is breathed in again.

"Rosenau estimates that to keep healthy a man weighing 160 pounds needs 2,400 cubic feet of fresh air every hour when resting; 3,200 when doing light work, and 6,100 when doing hard work. A woman weighing 120 pounds needs five-sixths as much; and a child weighing 80 pounds needs seven-twelfths as much.

"The simplest way of renewing used air by a supply of unused air is by opening the windows; but unless these are very carefully placed and supervised they seldom distribute the air evenly and they often cause persons in one part of a workroom to suffer from heat and bad air while those in other parts shiver and sneeze. If natural ventilation is insufficient the best way to renew the air in factories is by the use of big electric fans so placed as to draw off the foul air, so to drive in the fresh air, or both.

"Temperature and humidity (per cent of moisture in the air) are also closely associated with ventilation. The body heat given off by persons congregated in a workroom, church, theatre or other buildings raises the temperature and increases the moisture. When the temperature rises above 86 degees Fahrenheit and the humidity above 80 per cent they cause considerable discomfort; when they rise higher they cause suffering; and when they rise still higher they may cause heatstroke. In winter, on the other hand, the heated air in buildings is usually too dry; often the humidity falls to 20 per cent., which is lower than that in a desert. Air as dry as this draws moisture from the skin and from the mucous membrances of the nose, throat, and mouth and irritates them. To be comfortable the humidity of a workroom should be about 50 per cent and it would pay the plant manager to see that it is kept that high, for at 50 per cent less heat is necessary and coal is saved. A temperature of 62 degrees Fahrenheit is quite high enough if the work is active.

"The ventilation of many factories and offices depends on factors over which the workers may have little control. At home, however, in their rooms they have fewer or no other persons to consider and may be able to insist on pure air especially at night.

"The idea that night air is unhealthy and must be shut out is a survival from the days when men barricaded themselves to keep enemies from stealing upon them under cover of darkness; it was reinforced later, when malaria-bearing mosquitoes entered by night through unclosed windows. Night air is exactly like day air; and neither of them is anything like so injurious as the air in a room whose windows are closed and whose door is probably never opened all night long; no matter how many persons are breathing into it carbon dioxide—and rebreathing it—all night long.

"If drafts upon the bed are feared they may be prevented by getting a piece of board about twelve inches wide and nearly as long as the window sash is wide. Raise the lower sash, slip the board in beneath it and draw the sash down upon it. Outside air will travel upward between the two sashes and spill into the room over the top of the lower sash. This is nothing like so satisfactory as having the upper sash completely down but it will do a lot for that sick headachy feeling that you have had every morning on waking up."

CHEERFUL WORDS

For Many a Clearfield Household.

To have the pains and aches of a bad back removed—to be entirely free from annoying, dangerous urinary disorders, is enough to make any kidney sufferer grateful. The following advice of one who has suffered will prove helpful to hundreds of Clearfield readers.

Mrs. B. Smith, 434 River St., Clearfield, says: "I had an attack of kidney trouble that gave me quite a lot of annoyance. I had awful pains in the small of my back which I noticed more when doing my washing or bending over. I had severe headaches and was tired and lame all the time. I was advised to try Doan's Kidney Pills, so I bought a box at Irwin's Drug Store. I used one box of Doan's and the pain went away and the headaches and lameness left. I have had just a slight attack since but I am glad to recommend Doan's Kidney Pills, as they again relieved me. I think they are a wonderful kidney remedy."

KEEP YOUR SHIRT ON BUT TAKE OFF YOUR COAT

A little over a month ago The Progress, under the caption "Just Keep Your Shirt On," expressed some doubt as to the possible working out of the New York Central's proposal that it be given the right to acquire the physical property and trackage rights which would enable it to set up, via Clearfield, a trunk line under single operation and control, running across the State of Pennsylvania.

The Progress was not, however, blind to the importance of such a proposal and has since that time been on the alert for evidence that would indicate that local effort and energy put forth behind the proposal would not be wasted. Since the very first publication of President Smith's representations to the Interstate Commerce Commission there has been a favorable response to the suggestion from all quarters not biased by purely selfish or sectional interest. Probably the best evidence of the merits of the plan was the cognizance given it by the president of the Philadelphia & Reading, who could find nothing to say against the suggestion except that the route was already there and being used; a fact that is not disputed but which does not mean that the route can be operated as a trunk line, which is what is being sought after.

Philadelphia also dignified the proposal by a vigorous assault upon it, that great city of Brotherly Love apparently not being satisfied with having the transportation facilities of the great Pennsy trunk line as well as a southern outlet by way of the B. & O. The tentative recommendation called for the allotment of certain of the same property and trackage sought by the New York Central to the B. & O., a procedure which would have no other effect but to further throw out of balance the transportation system within the state of Pennsylvania by involving Philadelphia and Pittsburgh, thus denying to the central part of the state—the source of raw material—further development.

President Smith's suggestion is still only a suggestion and the beautiful thought that Clearfield may yet be located on a great trunk line is dependent on that suggestion being brought forcibly to the attention of the I. C. C. It is too early to shout over results, therefore the adjuration to "keep your shirt on."

But how about our coats? They should be off now with every mother's son of us boosting shoulder to shoulder with President Smith. His is the logical plan for giving Pennsylvania a more adequate transportation system. Do not make the mistake of thinking that it is not worth your best effort. It is the opportunity of the decade for the Clearfield route. Suggestions as to how we can best bring our mite of influence to bear on the proposal will likely be forthcoming in the very near future. Clearfield should respond heartily, willingly and forcefully to any suggestion for support of this far-reaching improvement.

What a Wonderful Opportunity for a Good Leader!

The public has a right to expect, and does expect that the police authorities and the courts of Allegheny county will leave nothing undone in their efforts to apprehend, try, convict and punish those guilty of the crimes committed in the rioting at Carnegie Saturday night. The disgrace of the affair can be atoned for in no other way than by proceeding fearlessly and impartially against the responsible parties, regardless of whether they are members of the Ku Klux Klan or of the citizens who attacked them.

Individuals will have to answer to juries for the murder done and the assaults and batteries which marked the affray. The Klan itself, and the citizens of Carnegie who made the hostile demonstration against it are being tried at the bar of public opinion. There is no question as to the verdict. The blame must be shared on both sides.

The Klansmen did wrong in going ahead with the parade after a permit for it had been refused by the borough authorities and the police had forbidden it. The mob did wrong in taking the law into its own hands by trying to prevent the parade.

The phase of the subject which demands greatest attention is the necessity of putting an end to these riots. An appeal must be made to the good sense of the Klansmen. It is obvious from the size of the local membership that the organization has in its ranks many men of good qualities who deplore bloodshed and violence unless they lead to the accomplishment of something beneficial. It is respectfully submitted for their consideration that public demonstrations by the Klan do no good and have been proved to incite rioting. A parade of the Klansmen settles no question, establishes no principle, advances no cause.

It is understood that the order plans other demonstrations in Western Pennsylvania towns in the near future. Christianity, patriotism and respect for law dictate that the proposed parades be called off. Let humanity rather than selfish pride be served.

—(Pittsburgh Post.)

July Smashed Sales Records For The Ford Selling Organization

Detroit Mich., Aug. 29.—July brought two news sales records to the Ford Motor Company.

In addition to bringing retail deliveries of Ford Cars and Trucks into the mid-summer season with a new high record for the month, July also carried the sales figures for the year past the million mark.

Increasing popularity of the Ford is most strikingly illustrated in the figures just announced which show that from January 1 to August 1 this year sales of cars and trucks by the Ford Motor Company totaled 1,050,986 in the United States alone. And the rapidity of the increase in demand is further emphasized by the fact that sales for the first seven months of the year, during which the million mark was passed, were 391,798 greater than the same period last year when they totaled 659,190.

July sales mounted to 156,908 an increase of 36,821 over the same month a year ago.

For sixteen consecutive months now, Ford sales have been well over 100,000 every month.

Production, which, by the way, is set at a higher schedule for August than any month so far, apparently continues to be the only factor limiting sales of Ford Cars and Trucks.

The COUNTRY GENTLEMAN

Aaron Sapiro, one of the biggest figures in coöperative marketing in the country, tells "How to Build the Coöperative Machine." Farmers are realizing that it's a question of "united we boost—divided we bust!"

How to save money by feeding wheat when wheat is cheap; how good roads can down the freight rate bugaboo; new tillage methods; splendid new fiction stories; keen humor, of which Hank, the Hired Man, is one feature—all of that is only a part of one issue!

It's not enough to tell the farmer how to raise his crops—he gets that experience on the farm. It's with his vital problems—transportation, coöperation, marketing—that THE COUNTRY GENTLEMAN is concerned. That's the kind of service $1 a year brings to your door!

Progress Editorial For Women

A SERIOUS HURT

By Florence Davies.

An African native was brought into a hospital with a spear wound in his side and a bullet hole in his leg. As the leg was in a bad condition the doctor started right away to work on the wound.

"Oh, don't worry about that," exclaimed the native. "Just look at this spear wound. It hurts me where I laugh."

The native counselled better than he knew. Better to die of gangrene in the leg than to live with a wound that hurts you where you laugh. Some people seem to have been grievously hurt with that sort of wounds, and never to have recovered.

Without the ability to laugh, life takes on a kind of density. It is not that living without laughter is dull and drear. It is worse than that. It is unadaptable and inflexible, it has a kind of unyielding quality which makes the going hard.

But don't imagine that laughter has to be audible, or even visible for that matter. That kind of actual laughter is mighty wholesome. It clears the air, even better than tears, and it has a way of putting the right kind of lines into the face. Also they say that it's good for the digestion.

But the real tragedy comes when people are no longer able to distinguish between the serious and the merely ridiculous, when they act as if they were actually hurt where they laugh.

"When I begin to talk like that again," said one woman to another, "I wish you'd just laugh at me." The woman who asked for the particular kind of punishment had been making a mountain out of a mole hill.

Nothing could be more ridiculous than that, yet we all indulge in that failing when our sense of humor gets out of working order. People who take themselves or the world too seriously invariably have something wrong with their ability to laugh, and often they want to laugh at themselves.

And so the native was quite right. He wasn't worried about his leg. It mended be he could go through life on a crutch. But going through life without laughter would be a worse impediment than going through life without an arm or a leg.

You can't get angry at people, for instance, when you see that they are more ridiculous than offensive, more to be pitied than blamed.

If you can't see that, you are often apt to carry a chip on your shoulder and to take offense at petty slights.

So whatever life does to you in the rough and tumble game, don't let it hand you a permanent hurt where you laugh.

A BIG MISTAKE

Word has gone out that the Labor Day Committee is going to charge a dollar admission on Labor Day at Irwin Park. This is a Big Mistake.

No admission is allowed to be charged to Irwin Park. The Park is Free. This is one of the stipulations in receiving this beautiful Park as a gift from Mr. Hugh Irvin and his sister, Miss Elizabeth Irvin.

Even the twenty five cents we are going to ask people to donate for parking cars is not allowed to be a charge.

You can even park your car without the charge of one cent.

The committee is merely asking that twenty five cents be donated for the trouble of keeping men on the ground all day directing the parking of cars. This will mean a great amount of labor. This twenty-five cents will be turned over to the park commission, to be applied to the building of an auditorium. In fact every cent realized on Labor Day is to go for this purpose.

Never let money keep you away from Irwin Park, Curwensville. You are as welcome here as the flowers in May, without money and without price.

South Australia's Model City.

Adelaide, the capital of South Australia, is a "model city," laid out with a central town in perfectly square blocks, containing public and business buildings. Outside of that is a belt of public parks and gardens, and beyond the latter are the residence suburbs.—Chevrolet Main Dealer.

Vats Were Built to Last.

Workmen excavating a sewer on Main street, Portland, Me., unearthed tanning vats that are at least 100 years old. Pine planks of which the vats are constructed are as sound as the day they were laid, apparently. A small [illegible] was found in one of the vats.

Dad's Calculations.

Father—No young man, you are too young to marry my daughter. . . . You are scarcely twenty and she is twenty-eight. . . . Wait ten years. You will then be thirty—and she will be the same.

Allowance for Wind.

Allowance must be made for a wind of about seven miles an hour from the west at the average altitude used in the transcontinental mail service flights of the United States Post Office department aviators.

Cause for Worry.

"I wonder," mused the family cat, after inspecting the new mouse trap, "if that is intended as a labor-saving device for my benefit, or if I'm in danger of [illegible]"

Death Followed Boast.

In South Africa once several natives were cowering in a kraal during a severe thunderstorm when one man began to chaff the others about their fears, and said he would show them that no one need be afraid. If he stood in front of a door and blew two blasts on his horn, said this modern Alexander, nothing could injure him. So he seized the horn and, standing in the doorway, blew a long blast. The man fell dead, struck by the same bolt that struck him dead! Note of the moral was omitted.

Two animals that will try the patience of the photographer are the dragon fly and rove beetle, says Nature Magazine of Washington. Both are ferocious preying creatures, but, like most wild things, if treated properly, will submit to captivity without fatal results. NOTICE REGARDING THE

The public schools of Clearfield Borough will open on Monday, September 10th. All pupils who are six years old, or will be six years old before March 1st. 1924 may enter school September 10th. First grade pupils will be admitted between September 10th. and September 24th. First grade pupils who do not present themselves on or before September 24th. may not be admitted during the year. This is not an arbitrary act of the School Board but is, however, in accordance with the School Law of Pennsylvania.

Every pupil in order to attend the Public Schools must give evidence of having been successfully vaccinated. Boys and girls who expect to attend the Public Schools and have not been vaccinated, should have the matter attended to at once, as it is unfair to school and pupils to have the pupils suffer the inconvenience of being vaccinated and adjusting themselves to the requirements of school life.

Teachers, residing in Clearfield, who are to teach in theSystem during the year 1923—1924 may register for the Annual County Institute any time during the week of August 27th, in the High School Office between the hours of 9:30 A. M. and 3:00 P. M.

Clearfield High School will resume all school activities for the term 1923-24, Monday, September 10. On Monday, August 27, and thruout the week all resident and non-resident pupils should come to the office and have an enrollment card made out previous to the opening of school. If you will be a non-resident pupil and can arrange to enroll before school opens it will be appreciated at the High School office.—(Adv.)

Few foods offer so many of the ingredients used by the body each day as barley—especially the plump selected barley that goes into Blue Ribbon. And to this invigorating, healthful barley malt, is added sunshine hops from scented Oregon vines. Remember—you can get it plain with packaged hops or Hop Flavored (no boiling). You might as well buy the pioneer—the original malt. That is Blue Ribbon.
